A close-up photograph of a piece of aged, yellowed paper with vertical lines. The paper is heavily worn, with a large, irregular tear along the left edge, revealing a darker, possibly black, material underneath. The paper has a textured, slightly mottled appearance with some darker spots and a general yellowish-brown color. The vertical lines are faint and evenly spaced. The lighting is somewhat uneven, with the left side being slightly darker than the right.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf from an old book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and faint vertical ruling lines. A small, dark tear or hole is visible on the left edge, near the top. The page is set against a dark background.
